To : Ship Masters expected or moored alongside the Quai du Havre
in the port of Le Havre

Sir,

Your vessel is moored alongside the Quai du Havre in the Hubert Raoul Duval tidal basin.

The difference between high and low waters reaches 8,25m, and some other ships may sail in front of your berthing position.

To prevent any damages or accidents, Harbour Master Office :

- Requires permanent watch keeping of your mooring lines, which have to be maintained all time in secured and safe conditions
- Advises to not use automatic tensioned winches for the bow and aft springs and when these equipments are used for others lines to switch them at least at 80% of the total power.

If Dock Officer states that one or more mooring lines are slacks, they may draw an infringement statement and Captain could have to pay a fine.
